

Local businesses are the heart of our neighborhoods, but many struggle to get visibility and connect with customers in meaningful ways.

Introducing Stitch: the platform that brings small businesses together.

Our AI matches you with nearby partners so you can host joint events that attract new customers, boost foot traffic, and strengthen your local ecosystem.

From co-branded workshops to pop-up markets, Stitch helps communities grow through collaboration, not competition.

With our app, stitch small businesses together through community events!